Illuminating. Always.

Korry Electronics

Reliable HMI solutions for Military Land & Naval Platforms

Korry's highly reliable range of human-machine interface (HMI) products are rugged and robust enough for use on many military ground and naval platforms.

With over 80 years of experience developing HMI solutions, Korry has built a reputation as a world leader in the field of crew station products.

Our tried and tested components are often found on wheeled and tracked ground vehicles as well as naval vessels.

Individually as components or included in our control panel assemblies, our products are able to stand up to the harshest of environments and use cases.

Reliable HMI solutions for Military Land & Naval Platforms

Components

Korry's market leading illuminated push button switches, annunciators and knobs provide optimum solutions on military land and naval platforms. Designed to provide unparalleled reliability and superior lighting properties, Korry components offer superior performance in the toughest of environments.

Nightshield

Korry's Nightshield™ optical filters provide NVIS compatibility for digital tablets and phones. Large area filters and tubes are ideal for securing shipboard bays and mobile-ground forward operational shelters.

Rugged Displays & Bezels

Korry's Rugged military ground displays and control bezels provide precise tactile HMI interfaces of operation and use in the most demanding environments, with optimal video and processing capabilities

Control Products

Korry control products includes our line of Utility Control Systems, Control Panels and Integrated Switch Panels.

Control Panels

Korry Control Panels provide high-reliability control and display functions for multiple systems including warning and threat detection, fire control, turret control and hydraulic & power controls.
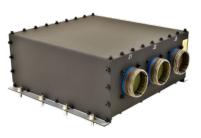

Integrated Switch Panels

Korry Integrated Switch Panels and keyboards are available in a number of formats or can be customer designed to meet your needs.

Utility Control Systems

Integration of interface control solutions for managing and commanding numerous end-user systems

Rugged Computing

Korry's platform computing solutions provide highly reliable data and I/O gateways, video management and sensor acquisition subsystems.

Korry

Illuminating. Always.

For more information contact us at:
+1 425-297-9700 or sales@korry.com

www.korry.com

Korry Electronics
11910 Beverly Park Rd.
Everett, WA 98204